MATTAPOISETT GRANGE MEETING

The Mattapoisett Grange held its bi-monthly meeting Thursday night. After welcoming the members and officers of Sippican Pomona, the master, Mildred LeBaron, presented the gavel to Pomona master, Jethro Ashley, who, with his officers, filled the chairs and conducted the meeting and program.

A most special ceremony took place at this meeting when the Worthy Master LeBaron escorted Mrs. Isabel Farwell to the altar who was presented a lovely corsage by the lecturer, Mrs. Myrtle Spagnoli. This was highlighted by Deputy Joseph Bradford who presented a golden sheaf certificate and 50-year jewel from the National Grange to Mrs. Farwell honoring her 50 years of continuance membership and faithful activities in her Grange work. The jewel was pinned on by Master LeBaron. A letter from the State Master John E. Johnson was read by Deputy Bradford commending Mrs. Farwell for her service to the Grange for 50 years.

Mrs. Farwell has held many offices and served as chairman on committees including serving as lecturer of the Grange under Past Masters Russell Sherman and John Figueiredo. A gracious response was given by Mrs. Farwell.

Miss Grace Tilden, another 50-year member of Mattapoisett Grange, was reported ill at Tobey Hospital, Wareham. Also, the Worthy Pomona of the local Grange was reported at Tobey Hospital but has returned home since the meeting.

It was voted to have the Grange meeting dates listed on the Lions Club calendar.

by the chairman, Mrs. Marion Hatton. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. LeBaron when aprons, etc. will be cut and given out to members to be made up for the Grange Fair in August.

Otto Kellish gave the agricultural report. He reported on a man in Rhode Island who raised cabbage, lettuce and cucumber plants to be sold in the stores.

Letters of appreciation were read by the secretary, Ruth Shaw, from the Juvenile Superintendent Gladys Reed of Amherst, and Charles Fuller of Pocasset, newly appointed Juvenile Deputy, for the use of the hall for the State meeting.

Ann Ashley, lecturer of Sippican Pomona, presented a representative of the Dairy Council who talked on "A Guide to Good Eating" and the need of more exercise for the people of today. She had posters on exhibit stressing the value of certain foods and milk. It was most enjoyable. Material distributed was put out by the National Dairy Council.

SALTONSTALL SKEPTICAL OF ADMINISTRATION'S 1963 BUDGET

Senator Leverett Saltonstall took a 'skeptical attitude' towards the Administration's forecast of a half a billion dollar surplus for fiscal 1963 in his first Report to Massachusetts for the 1962 Congress. The senior Bay State Senator's newsletter put first emphasis on a strong military defense and a strong economy to support it. He said that some increases in government expenditure "may prove to be desirable if we could afford them, but not absolutely necessary to our survival as a free nation. Priorities must be established which give the strength of our economy a high rank, for this is what the world will be watching".

Saltonstall, the ranking Minority member of the Armed Services and Appropriations Committees, stated that Congress may wish to alter proposed defense appropriations to suit changing conditions. He pointed out also that "by the Administration's figures, nearly 10% of our nation's Gross National Product will be spent for military hardware and the people to use it ... This sometimes makes me wonder how far we have advanced since the Middle Ages, when every man owed a month's service to his liege".

Saltonstall continued: "But there is more to a nation's strength than its legions, than its arms, than its missiles. We must be strong within. We must have the courage to face the problems of continuing our democratic way of life. In order to support our military effort we must also maintain a sound economy. This often-used word is derived from the Greek phrase meaning 'the steward's management of his house'. The people of the world are warily watching our stewardship of our house.

REP. KEITH ATTACKED FOR MEDICAL AID STAND

The first Republican member of Congress to publicly declare his support for medical care for the aged under the Social Security program has come under sharp attack by a member of his State GOP Committee.

Congressman Hastings Keith (R.Mass.) said he will stick with his decision, despite the attack, "because this is the true Conservative approach to a problem we can no longer ignore."

State Committeeman Jack E. Molesworth of Boston charged the Massachusetts Congressman with being "a traitor to the Republican cause".

He didn't stop there. He added Keith was "absurdly hypocritical, presumptuous and exhibited a lack of integrity". He said Keith should resign from Congress.

The attack on Keith was prompted by the Congressman's appearance on a live television panel program. Instead of opposing the fin-

Dear friends,
We have noticed a marked change in the public's attitude toward our profession and the service we render.
There is a better understanding. People ask questions frankly about every phase of our work, and there is not the dread or mystery about funeral merchandise there once was. We regard this as a wholesome sign.
You are welcome at any time to visit our Funeral Home.
Respectfully,
Carl C Cornwell

ancing of medical care for the aged through the Social Security system, Keith delcared "this method is sound because it permits the individual to contribute during his working years toward the benefits he will receive when 65".

The Congressman said there is no question as to the low income level of the aged, their high medical costs or the need for such a program.

Molesworth, who is also Massachusetts Chairman of Young Americans for Freedom, Inc., said Keith had done untold damage to the "image" of the Republican Party by his stand on the controversial proposal.

In a two-page letter to Keith - with copies sent to other top Republicans, including Senator Saltonstall and members of the Massachusetts congressional delegation - Molesworth threatened to start his own, "third party".

Regarding Molesworth's charges, Keith would only say he thought the letter was "somewhat hysterical and, in my opinion, his threat to start a third party is childish and irresponsible for a member of the State Republican Committee.

"Mr. Molesworth is entitled to his views. However, if he would check the voting records, he would find that I have consistently, more than any other Congressman or Senator from Massachusetts, voted the conservative point of view," Keith said.

"After a careful study of this matter, I am convinced that my support of the Social Security method for financing a medical insurance program for the aged is consistent with conservative voting record.

"Today, the retired worker pays his medical bills by tapping his savings, turning to his family, or by appealing for public welfare. The aged may be receiving adequate medical care, but the bills are not being paid in the best possible way.

"Much of the cost is now met by the taxpayer. The man with the low income is paying very little for the benefits he receives. The man with the higher income is bearing the burden.

"The term 'medical care' is misleading. The legislation I favor," Keith declared, "has nothing to do with doctor's fees. It pays hospital and nursing home bills. Thus, it avoids the dangers of socialized medicine.

"Social Security financing of old-age hospital benefits differs from the method of providing such care by higher taxes as individualism differs from welfarism. For these reasons the position I have taken is truly the conservative approach."

Keith concluded:

"The medical profession should understand that I am not advocating the old Forand bill, and the public should understand that the approach I do favor will save taxpayers many millions of dollars each year.

"The average American wants to pay his own way - not rely on town welfare when he is too old to work.

"Private insurance plans unfortunately can not do the job. Constantly rising hospital costs make it impossible to fix a fair premium. Thus, Social Security financing is the only way in which an individual can pay premiums during his working years to protect himself against bankrupting hospital expenses during his retirement years."

ALA OPPOSES NEW ENGLAND PARTICIPATION IN WORLD'S FAIR

New England's $2.5 million participation in the 1964-65 New York World's Fair will be opposed by the tourist experts of the Automobile Legal Association "until the six states show more active cooperation in the area's Heritage Trail, the tourist possibilities of which make World's Fair participation pale by comparison."

The Heritage Trail, due to be officially opened this Spring, is a highway route connecting over a thousand of New England's scenic, recreational, cultural and historic spots.

"The only expense to New England in the Heritage Trail, already called the best tourist promotion in fifty years by national travel authorities, is raising $25,000 for a brochure and erecting roadside signs to mark the Trail. To date, and despite the Trail's unanimous endorsement by all New England Governors, not a penny has been appropriated
